Stay Connected

The Los Angeles Department of Transportation recognizes the importance of connecting with residents, businesses, and visitors through a variety of platforms. We deploy multiple social media platforms throughout the year to connect with our employees and stakeholders such as Facebook, Instagram, Twitter and YouTube. These platforms are used for emergency notification alerts, to share breaking news, promote community based activities, and share valuable information about our services. Please follow us to stay informed about LADOT's latest news and events:

New Sergeants

Last Friday, Chief Greg Savelli, Deputy Chief Brian Hale, Chief of Staff Bridget Smith and General Manager Seleta Reynolds recognized eight new Parking Enforcement and Traffic Control Sergeants who were promoted for their outstanding performance. Congratulations to John Wilson, Danielle Pickens, Leia Griffin, Daphany Robison, Gerardo Cervantes, Phyrith Reth, Ron Haywood, and Rafael A. Garcia.

Great Streets Are Happening

Mayor Eric Garcetti announced a series of city events that will transform local streets into vibrant public spaces with cultural programming and temporary pedestrian-friendly road and sidewalk improvements. Here are future Great Streets events across the city.

Who We Are Series

Accountability, Honesty & Respect

As an accounting Clerk II, Rey Guilles is responsible for collecting deposits from sponsors of special events where the city needs to be fully reimbursed for labor costs of traffic officers assigned to help control the flow of traffic. Rey maintains a professional demeanor even under stress and establishes rapport with people that he deals with. He takes great pride in providing the upmost customer service to our constituents. No matter what the situation is, Rey never make promises to customers that he can't keep.

◆ I deliver on promises made to customers and never use excuses when I cannot accomplish what is expected. I take responsibility for my actions. ◆ He has also been recognized for his perfect attendance for the last ten years. Rey makes Team LADOT shine brighter everyday.

Thumbs Up for New Traffic Signals

LADOT's East Valley District Transportation Engineer Steve Rostam, ATSAC construction engineers and field crew members joined CD2 Councilmember Paul Krekorian and representatives from Roscoe Elementary School, to celebrate the installation of a new traffic signal at the intersection of Cleon Ave, Strathern & White Sts. East Valley Senior Transportation Engineer Brian Gallagher initiated the traffic signal study at the intersection due to a high volume of children crossing Strathern St. to reach the school.

Last Week, CD13 Councilmember Mitch O'Farrell was joined by Senior Transportation Engineer Manoochehr Adhami and Transportation Engineers Jeannie Shen and Mat Talag to celebrate installation of a new traffic signal at the intersection of Edgecliff Dr. and Sunset Blvd.

Parking Violations Bureau Customer Service Web Portal

The LADOT Parking Violations Bureau (PVB) website is pleased to offer the public a fast, easy and intuitive means of accessing their parking violation information along with the ability to set up notifications, and access other parking related web services. The new web application provides the public with greater access to their personal parking data -- allowing motorists to setup secured user accounts, and receive email notifications about delinquent parking citations. To enroll in an account, log-in to: http://www.lacity-parking.org/laopm/pvb_home.html and click on ◆ My Portal ◆ to create your personal account.

Video: Mobility Minute #2, Curb Maintenance

LADOT's new video series highlights how our team assists city stakeholders by providing essential services and responding to requests in a timely manner. Our goal is to deliver excellent customer service and this series will demonstrate that commitment. This week, visit with another satisfied customer as LADOT engineers and field crew members repaint curb markings in South Los Angeles. View video here.
